National Panhellenic Conference Supports Member Rights

Indianapolis, March 29 – The National Panhellenic Conference is aware of the legal actions being taken by one of our 26 member organizations, Delta Zeta, regarding the situation with DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind. NPC supports the right of any of our member organizations to exercise policies and procedures regarding membership. Additionally NPC supports the rights of any of our member organizations to issue policies and take actions necessary to uphold the standards of their organization.

NPC regrets what has occurred between Delta Zeta and DePauw University and the resulting media coverage. Delta Zeta is a valued member of NPC and has been since 1910. The courts of our country exist to resolve disputes and NPC respects the right of Delta Zeta to utilize the justice system for that purpose.

NPC and the six member organizations with chapters at DePauw have enjoyed a partnership with the university since 1870. We look forward to continued cooperative relations between women's fraternities and sororities and DePauw University. Our member organizations encourage positive leadership, philanthropic and community service opportunities for their members and emphasize academic excellence. We value our member groups and the relationships they maintain with the colleges and universities where their chapters are located.
